

MASSACHUSETTS PLOUGHMAN,

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 20, 1844.

William Buckminster, Editor.

Important From Washington.

On Monday Mr. McKay, Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means in the House, again brought up his new Tariff Bill, and again the House refused to give it up, 95 to 84—thus giving the go-by to this business till another session. This truly angers well for the stability of business; and it proves what we have often asserted, that the tariff of 1842 is gaining popularity in every part of the country.

The greatest danger that threatened the tariff was the spirit of party, since many of our agitators, on both sides, have endeavored most vigorously to make this a party question. Some of the Whig papers insisting on calling it a Whig tariff, yet in the same breath protesting against its being made a party question! They say it is a national matter, and relates to a system that should not be continually fluctuating with the rise and fall of political thermometers; still they will stow on the system a party name;—this should not be done by any who desire its permanency, and who honestly view it as a national measure.

It is unjust as well as impolitic, to give the tariff a party name, for it was not carried by a party vote. Many of the Whigs voted against it, while no less than 20 of the Democrats voted for it, and it could not have passed the House without the aid of Democratic votes. How unfair then to call the measure by a party name!

True some of the very small Democratic papers are continually railing at the "Black Tariff," and endeavoring to heap odium upon the authors of the system. But the great body of the farmers and mechanics, (who are not trading politicians,) as well as the most able Democratic papers, are induced to make war upon a system that most evidently operates well, not only in favor of all classes of mechanics and laborers, but aiding directly the revenue of the country and restoring its fallen credit.

Farmers also are beginning to feel the effects of the revival of business; for more hands are now called off to other pursuits, and have become purchasers of produce instead of being rural producers; though farmers are the last class to feel the operation of any change of system. Farmers felt less the pressure of 1841 than mechanics or manufacturers. They depend more on their own productions than any other class, and they are consequently more independent of others.

The low prices of farm produce are owing to the immense surplus that has been raised within the three last years; and this surplus was occasioned by good seasons and the exceeding high prices of former years. Produce will again find its level in due time, if legislators will let us alone. Farmers will find better prices this year than last, unless Providence shall fit to bless our labor so much as to glut the markets and discourage purchasers.

SENATOR BERNIER'S ARGUMENT. Mr. Bernier, one of the Georgia Senators, has made a speech on the tariff question. He is wholly opposed to making any alteration of the establishment, though he voted against the establishment of it in 1842.

He asked, what is "free trade" and where does it exist; he said England taxed every thing, but the greatest tax it had ever attempted to lay was upon the credulity of mankind, by its pretended love of free trade!

He then went on to show that in 1839 Great Britain had collected $26,800,000 of revenue on American articles, while we had collected in the same year only $18,000,000. He showed that manufactures were springing up in Georgia, the Carolinas and Alabama, which had not produced a beneficial effect at the south, and was restoring the credit of the whole country.

Mr. McClellan inquired what the Senator meant by "free trade." He asked if he meant to insinuate that any party in this country advocated the doctrine of perfect free trade? He denied that any party was in favor of reducing the tariff lower than a proper revenue standard.

TRIAL OF THE GORDONS. John and William Gordon have been on trial in the Supreme Court at Providence for nine days. The case was delivered to the jury on Wednesday at five, after an elaborate charge from the Chief Justice. The jury after being out more than an hour returned a verdict of Guilty against John, and not guilty against William. The former listened to the verdict with much calmness.

NEW ENGLAND FRUIT BOOK. Mr. John M. Ives, of Salem, has just published his second edition of the New England Fruit Book, by ROBERT MANNING, with outlines of many of the finest pears, drawn from nature.

This is an enlarged edition of Mr. Manning's work, and is a very convenient and useful manual for farmers and gardeners. It is for sale at the various Bookstores and seed establishments.

A RUMOR. A gentleman just from Washington, says the New York Post, informs us that the rumor there was that Mr. Almonite, the Mexican Minister, had orders to demand his passport as soon as the Senate should ratify the Treaty in regard to Texas. It was generally denied that he had been consulted in the formation of the Treaty.

A postscript to a letter from Lockport, addressed to the Buffalo Commercial, says—“A small bag from Rochester to Lewiston containing the Canada mail made up at Rochester on the 4th—due here on the 8th—was found about one mile and a half in a field east of the village, this morning, cut open and robbed. The value of its contents is not known.”

FATAL DUEL. A duel, which terminated fatally, took place on the 15th inst., in the morning, near the tobacco presses below New Orleans, between John de Buys and Victor Castelnau, a principal duellist-harried shot gun. At the first fire Castelnau received the contents of his adversary's piece in his breast, fell, and expired almost immediately.

JOHN WARDEN. John and William Warden have been on trial in the Supreme Court at Providence for nine days. The case was delivered to the jury on Wednesday at five, after an elaborate charge from the Chief Justice. The jury after being out more than an hour returned a verdict of Guilty against John, and not guilty against William. The former listened to the verdict with much calmness.

JOHN WARDEN. John and William Warden have been on trial in the Supreme Court at Providence for nine days. The case was delivered to the jury on Wednesday at five, after an elaborate charge from the Chief Justice. The jury after being out more than an hour returned a verdict of Guilty against John, and not guilty against William. The former listened to the verdict with much calmness.

ILLEGAL VOTING AND ITS CONSEQUENCES. A citizen of Iowa has recently been convicted of crossing over to Galena, Ill., at an election, and swearing in his vote, and has been sentenced to the penitentiary at Alton, for one year.

LAW SUIT. We learn that Mr. Wikoff of "The Republic" has commenced a libel suit against James Gordon Bennett, for an article which appeared in "The Herald" for a few days ago.

Our friends in Sterling are informed that the editor of the Ploughman accepts their invitation to give them a Lecture on Agriculture at their Hall on Tuesday evening next—to commence at 7 o'clock.

REAL ESTATE. The estate at the corner of Howard and Richmond streets, measuring 34 feet front Hanover street, and 88 feet 4 inches on the Board of Selectmen in the town of Boston, was sold at auction on Monday, by F. E. White, for $12,400.

JOHN WARDEN. An election was held in Iowa on the 1st inst., to take the sense of the people on the State of the Board of Selectmen in the town of Boston, died on Tuesday, much regretted.

FIRE. Another fire occurred in Hudson, N. Y., on Wednesday of last week, destroying wholly the City Hotel.

FIRE. On Saturday night in Raynham, a barn of Mr. George Leonard, filled with hay, was burnt. Also 40,000 shingles and a cow and calf.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE. This body has resolved to adjourn, sine die, on the 29th inst.

MICE EATEN TREES. On looking over the communication of M. S. Rice Esq., we notice an inquiry that was not answered—that is, for a remedy where mice have barked the trees during winter. Mice have done much mischief to apple trees, and the usual precaution of treading down the snow has failed, the winter being so severe that mice have gone above the snow and attacked the bark.

In cases where the young trees are not completely girdled, banking up with earth will favor a recovery from the wound. When the trees are fully girdled they may be made to live by inserting twigs or scions that will connect the two parts above and below the girdling. We have made them live in this way and grow thrifly.

THE TEXAN TREATY. We learn by letter from Washington that this treaty was not presented to the Senate on Tuesday. After presentation we shall be able to give the precise terms of the wonderful production to our readers. Deseare, would the advocates of annexation consent to receive any petitions concerning slavery in our new territory of Texas?

BRIMSTONE AT WASHINGTON. The latest accounts from the White House are, that brimstone is in great demand to care "the itch for office" among the losers.

I wish to introduce a bill for the destruction of worms, said the woodpecker member, in a stamp speech.

A DUEL was fought at Bladensburg, but no blood was spilt, by James Schott, Jr. and Peirce Butler, of Philadelphia, on Monday morning, at five.

THE winter in Russia has been uncommonly severe.

A PRACTICAL TREATISE ON MIDWIFERY. by M. J. M. Miller—illustrated with 216 engravings, and accompanied by a Royal Cabinet of Public Instruction; translated from the French and edited by A. S. Bedford, A. M. M. D., Professor of Midwifery and the Diseases of women and children in the University of New York.

This is an octavo volume, pp. 530, which embodies the instructions and experience of the celebrated Paul Dubois. It is one of the best works on the subject for students of medicine. Published by Borden & Brothers, Lewis & Sampson, 121 Washington street, have it.

TEXAS. The Philadelphia Ledger contains a letter from the Hon. Mr. Wilkins, Secretary of War, to his late constituents in the Allegany Congressional district, announcing that a Treaty for the annexation of Texas to the United States has been signed, and giving his reasons for acquiescing in the measure. It gives no intimation as to the provisions of the Treaty, but it is evident the more fact that it provides for the "annexation of Texas to the Territories of the United States."

A LONG CONTINUED STORM ON LAKE ERIE.

From a letter dated Chicago, March 30, we learn that a gale of wind, from the N. E., was so violent, and continued for 24 hours, that the citizens of Norwalk were thrown into consternation by a tremendous concussion, which shook their buildings with great violence, and occasioned considerable damage in the destruction of crockery and window glass. Atributing it to the explosion of powder stored in a house erected for that purpose, the citizens of Norwalk, from the town, many persons repaired thither to ascertain the cause and consequences of the catastrophe. They found the house, which had contained between eighty and a hundred kegs of powder a mass of ruins. In its vicinity were the bodies of four boys; and though life was not extinct, they had been stunned into a state of insensibility, and were incapable of rendering any account of the disaster. Two of them, at least, were probably fatal injuries, and it is doubtful whether more than one of them found a survivor. It is probable that playing with powder in the neighborhood, they communicated fire accidentally to the contents of the building. But this is only a surmise.

ARREST OF MRS. RESTELL. This notorious woman has at length been arrested, and the evidence against her is so conclusive that there can be no doubt of her conviction. The evidence in detail is such that we cannot admit it to our notice.

Mrs. Eliza Ann Munson, of New Haven, came to this city in December last, and went to Mrs. Restell, who performed upon her an unnatural and criminal operation. She then left the house, but finding that she grew worse, put herself under the treatment of Mrs. Bird about two weeks ago. She continued to decline until yesterday, when the doctor called to hold an ear to the ear, and was induced to call for Dr. McClellan, because the committee had reported no appropriation for any work except those for which they receive estimates.

The question has not been taken at the last

advice from Washington.

A RUMOR. A gentleman just from Washington, says the New York Post, informs us that the rumor there was that Mr. Almonite, the Mexican Minister, had orders to demand his passport as soon as the Senate should ratify the Treaty in regard to Texas. It was generally denied that he had been consulted in the formation of the Treaty.

A postscript to a letter from Lockport, addressed to the Buffalo Commercial, says—“A small bag from Rochester to Lewiston containing the Canada mail made up at Rochester on the 4th—due here on the 8th—was found about one mile and a half in a field east of the village, this morning, cut open and robbed. The value of its contents is not known.”

FATAL DUEL. A duel, which terminated fatally, took place on the 15th inst., in the morning, near the tobacco presses below New Orleans, between John de Buys and Victor Castelnau, a principal duellist-harried shot gun. At the first fire Castelnau received the contents of his adversary's piece in his breast, fell, and expired almost immediately.

JOHN WARDEN. John and William Warden have been on trial in the Supreme Court at Providence for nine days. The case was delivered to the jury on Wednesday at five, after an elaborate charge from the Chief Justice. The jury after being out more than an hour returned a verdict of Guilty against John, and not guilty against William. The former listened to the verdict with much calmness.

JOHN WARDEN. John and William Warden have been on trial in the Supreme Court at Providence for nine days. The case was delivered to the jury on Wednesday at five, after an elaborate charge from the Chief Justice. The jury after being out more than an hour returned a verdict of Guilty against John, and not guilty against William. The former listened to the verdict with much calmness.

ILLEGAL VOTING AND ITS CONSEQUENCES. A citizen of Iowa has recently been convicted of crossing over to Galena, Ill., at an election, and swearing in his vote, and has been sentenced to the penitentiary at Alton, for one year.

LAW SUIT. We learn that Mr. Wikoff of "The Republic" has commenced a libel suit against James Gordon Bennett, for an article which appeared in "The Herald" for a few days ago.

Our friends in Sterling are informed that the editor of the Ploughman accepts their invitation to give them a Lecture on Agriculture at their Hall on Tuesday evening next—to commence at 7 o'clock.

REAL ESTATE. The estate at the corner of Howard and Richmond streets, measuring 34 feet front Hanover street, and 88 feet 4 inches on the Board of Selectmen in the town of Boston, was sold at auction on Monday, by F. E. White, for $12,400.

JOHN WARDEN. An election was held in Iowa on the 1st inst., to take the sense of the people on the State of the Board of Selectmen in the town of Boston, died on Tuesday, much regretted.

FIRE. Another fire occurred in Hudson, N. Y., on Wednesday of last week, destroying wholly the City Hotel.

FIRE. On Saturday night in Raynham, a barn of Mr. George Leonard, filled with hay, was burnt. Also 40,000 shingles and a cow and calf.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE. This body has resolved to adjourn, sine die, on the 29th inst.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The Sheridan arrived at N. York on Sunday last from Liverpool, which she left March 14th. The principal news relates to the markets.

The Steam Ship Hibernia arrived at Liverpool on the 14th. O'Connell had two great dinners, one in Birmingham and one in London. Louis Philippe is to visit England in September. Ex Queen Christina had been received at the House.

In Ireland, in some parts of Connaught, especially in Galway, the humbler classes are suffering great distress—a state of things rather unusual at this season.

The Galway Vindicator contains a very striking statement on this subject. "Whole families (says that journal) are without any support except a few stones of potatoes among them, and hundreds of others have none at all. It is to become of the people in Ireland, if this is their condition at present! An appeal for Wednesday.

In cases where the young trees are not completely girdled, banking up with earth will favor a recovery from the wound. When the trees are fully girdled they may be made to live by inserting twigs or scions that will connect the two parts above and below the girdling. We have made them live in this way and grow thrifly.

THE TEXAN TREATY. We learn by letter from Washington that this treaty was not presented to the Senate on Tuesday. After presentation we shall be able to give the precise terms of the wonderful production to our readers. Deseare, would the advocates of annexation consent to receive any petitions concerning slavery in our new territory of Texas?

BRIMSTONE AT WASHINGTON. The latest accounts from the White House are, that brimstone is in great demand to care "the itch for office" among the losers.

I wish to introduce a bill for the destruction of worms, said the woodpecker member, in a stamp speech.

A DUEL was fought at Bladensburg, but no blood was spilt, by James Schott, Jr. and Peirce Butler, of Philadelphia, on Monday morning, at five.

THE winter in Russia has been uncommonly severe.

A PRACTICAL TREATISE ON MIDWIFERY. by M. J. M. Miller—illustrated with 216 engravings, and accompanied by a Royal Cabinet of Public Instruction; translated from the French and edited by A. S. Bedford, A. M. M. D., Professor of Midwifery and the Diseases of women and children in the University of New York.

This is an octavo volume, pp. 530, which embodies the instructions and experience of the celebrated Paul Dubois. It is one of the best works on the subject for students of medicine. Published by Borden & Brothers, Lewis & Sampson, 121 Washington street, have it.

TEXAS. The Philadelphia Ledger contains a letter from the Hon. Mr. Wilkins, Secretary of War, to his late constituents in the Allegany Congressional district, announcing that a Treaty for the annexation of Texas to the United States has been signed, and giving his reasons for acquiescing in the measure. It gives no intimation as to the provisions of the Treaty, but it is evident the more fact that it provides for the "annexation of Texas to the Territories of the United States."

A LONG CONTINUED STORM ON LAKE ERIE.

From a letter dated Chicago, March 30, we learn that a gale of wind, from the N. E., was so violent, and continued for 24 hours, that the citizens of Norwalk were thrown into consternation by a tremendous concussion, which shook their buildings with great violence, and occasioned considerable damage in the destruction of crockery and window glass. Atributing it to the explosion of powder stored in a house erected for that purpose, the citizens of Norwalk, from the town, many persons repaired thither to ascertain the cause and consequences of the catastrophe. They found the house, which had contained between eighty and a hundred kegs of powder a mass of ruins. In its vicinity were the bodies of four boys; and though life was not extinct, they had been stunned into a state of insensibility, and were incapable of rendering any account of the disaster. Two of them, at least, were probably fatal injuries, and it is doubtful whether more than one of them found a survivor. It is probable that playing with powder in the neighborhood, they communicated fire accidentally to the contents of the building. But this is only a surmise.

ARREST OF MRS. RESTELL. This notorious woman has at length been arrested, and the evidence against her is so conclusive that there can be no doubt of her conviction. The evidence in detail is such that we cannot admit it to our notice.

Mrs. Eliza Ann Munson, of New Haven, came to this city in December last, and went to Mrs. Restell, who performed upon her an unnatural and criminal operation. She then left the house, but finding that she grew worse, put herself under the treatment of Mrs. Bird about two weeks ago. She continued to decline until yesterday, when the doctor called to hold an ear to the ear, and was induced to call for Dr. McClellan, because the committee had reported no appropriation for any work except those for which they receive estimates.

The question has not been taken at the last

advice from Washington.

A RUMOR. A gentleman just from Washington, says the New York Post, informs us that the rumor there was that Mr. Almonite, the Mexican Minister, had orders to demand his passport as soon as the Senate should ratify the Treaty in regard to Texas. It was generally denied that he had been consulted in the formation of the Treaty.

A postscript to a letter from Lockport, addressed to the Buffalo Commercial, says—“A small bag from Rochester to Lewiston containing the Canada mail made up at Rochester on the 4th—due here on the 8th—was found about one mile and a half in a field east of the village, this morning, cut open and robbed. The value of its contents is not known.”

FATAL DUEL. A duel, which terminated fatally, took place on the 15th inst., in the morning, near

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

VERMONT

Herds Grass and Clover Seed.
Prime quality, just received and for sale; 1. L. FLETCHER.

Littleton, April 20, 1844. 6w*

Buist on the Rose.

THE ROSE MANUFACTORY, containing accurate descriptions of all the finest varieties of Roses, properly classed in their respective families, their character and mode of culture; with directions for their propagation; and the detection of Insects, with engravings; by ROBERTSON, NEW YORK, 1843, 12mo; just published and for sale by JAMES MUNROE & CO., 134 Washington street.

For Sale,

In the flourishing town of Grafton, within eighty rods of the centre of the town, a large and commodious House, with a Barn and eight acres of excellent land—The premises are not surprised by any water in the town. Any part of the land will be sold with the buildings; money can be had at a reasonable price, if the purchaser should want directly opposite the premises. Terms liberal, and a part of the purchase may remain on mortgage if desired.

For further particulars inquire of Mr. GEORGE CLAPP, of Freetown, or the subscriber on the premises. Grafton, April 8, 1844. 3w*

Farm for Sale.

In West Newfane, half a mile from the Meeting House adjoining the B. and W. Rail Road, and very pleasantly located on the road leading to Concord. The farm is well divided into Mowing, Tillage, Orcharding, Pasture, &c., and has a large well fenced with stone wall, and contains ninety-six acres, well fenced with stone wall, and has suitable buildings conveniently placed. The whole will be sold together, it will be all in one farm, and the purchaser may remain on mortgage if desired.

For further particulars inquire of the subscriber on the premises. ROBERT MANSFIELD.

West Newfane, April 10th, 1844. 4w

Farm for Sale.

The farm formerly belonging to the late Edward Hough, deceased, situated three-fourths of a mile from the logical Seminary, is offered for sale.

Said Farm contains about 44 acres of excellent soil, suitable for all lots for mowing, tillage, and pasture, with stone walls and fence.

A large and choice selection of selected Fruits.

With a good Dwelling House, Barn, Sheds, and all other necessary out-buildings, well arranged and in good order, with stone walls of stone and mortar failing water. The house is in a fine state of repair, and belonging to the farm, consisting of pasture and woodland, which will be sold with the place, if desired.

For further particulars inquire of Mr. J. L. FLETCHER.

Littleton, April 20, 1844. 6w*

Half of a House To Let.

The owner of a house in the westerly part of Middleton will let half of it—The annual rent will be $100, and half of the house contains four square rooms, and the location is pleasant and convenient. Water and other accommodations good. For particulars, apply to CHAS. D. ADAMS, on the premises to 20th 2nd WALTER RUSSELL.

Ploughs! Ploughs!

PROUTY, MEARS'S.—HITCHCOCK'S—RUGGLES, NOURSE & MASON'S—PLoughs! Cultivators.

of all sizes, all of which are in the best manner for experienced workmen. Made as cheap as can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

Also, PLough Points, of all patterns and sizes most in use, constantly on hand for sale, and for immediate delivery. Terms easy.

For further particulars inquire of the subscriber on the premises. ROBERT MANSFIELD.

West Newfane, April 10th, 1844. 4w

Farm for Sale.

The farm formerly belonging to the late Edward Hough, deceased, situated three-fourths of a mile from the logical Seminary, is offered for sale.

Said Farm contains about 44 acres of excellent soil, suitable for all lots for mowing, tillage, and pasture, with stone walls and fence.

A large and choice selection of selected Fruits.

With a good Dwelling House, Barn, Sheds, and all other necessary out-buildings, well arranged and in good order, with stone walls of stone and mortar failing water. The house is in a fine state of repair, and belonging to the farm, consisting of pasture and woodland, which will be sold with the place, if desired.

For further particulars inquire of Mr. J. L. FLETCHER.

Littleton, April 20, 1844. 6w*

Westboro', April 15, 1844.

THE subscriber has on hand and for sale GRASS SEED.

Eastern Herbs, Grass, Northern, Western, and Southern Clover and Red Top; Seed Oats, a prime article; Northern and Southern Corn; Corn and Ryee Meal; Flour; Potash; Dried Apple; Beans; Pork; Lard; Butter and Cheese.

Or Ruggles, Nourse & Mason's manufacture; Plough Points, all kinds; Plough Castings furnished at short notice.

Children's Wagons, all kinds.

A large assortment of WEST INDIA GOODS.

Broadcloth, Pantaloons, Cloths and Vestings. A great variety of Tin Goods, for summer wear—All of which is especially offered for sale, the most reasonable terms.

HIRAM HAVEN.

Connected with the above is a Tailoring Establishment, superintended by the Tailor, where Costs, Pante and Vests will be cut and made to exacting hands in the most fashionable, thorough and prompt manner.

4w

SPRING ARRANGEMENTS.

Ephraim Lord's

Cash Tailoring Establishment.

Chambers over the Store of E. H. Warren.

TO the Citizens of Framingham and its vicinity—

As this is the season for procuring Clothing I wish you to remember the fact that Garments are made at this place at a less than any other Clothing Store in this vicinity.

Having made an important alteration in my shop, and fitted up in the most thorough manner I am prepared to furnish garments from fine English, French, and American Cloth, and from the best and most fashionable style, at exceedingly low prices.

It is an error of a large number of people believing that Clothing can be bought cheaper at Boston than here.

I will make any description of Garments 25 per cent cheaper than can be obtained at any of the tailoring establishments in Boston, shop slops not excepted, for garments not made for rent, or for any other reason.

For further particulars inquire of Mr. JONAS HOLT, near the premises.

Andover, April 13, 1844. 3w

For Sale.

A small farm, pleasantly situated in the south part of Hingham, about 4 miles from the harbor, 15 miles from Boston, and 1 mile from Plympton to Boston. Said farm contains about 26 acres of land, with a cedar wood, and 25 acres of land, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The buildings are all in good repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, a large stone wall, a carriage house, pigsty, and other convenient out-buildings.

The whole suitable for a country seat, to be improved as a milk and fruit farm. The house is in a fine state of repair, and belonging to the farm, consisting of pasture and woodland, which will be sold with the place, if desired.

For further particulars inquire of the subscriber on the premises, or of the Massachusetts Ploughman, Boston.

DANIEL BARTLETT.

Hingham, April 13. 1844. 1f

Farm for Sale.

Situated in Needham, about one mile from the Upper Falls, Newton. Said Farm contains about 26 acres of land, and is well divided into mowing, tillage, orcharding, woodland, and wood, and has a good house, and barn, and a good well.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

The buildings consist of a large one store house, 20x30, with a cedar wood, and a large stone wall, and a good well.

The house is in a fine state of repair, and the farm is in a high state of cultivation.

THE POET'S CORNER.

BECAUSE I'M TWENTY-FIVE.

BY MISS HORTON.

'Twas wondrous strange, how great the change,
Since I was in my teens,
Then I had beads and billet doors,
And joined the gayety scenes.
But loves now have ceased to view—
No way they now contrive—
To poison, hang or drown themselves—
Because I'm twenty-five.

Once, if the night were ever so bright,
I never should roost,
Without—the bliss, the honor, Miss,
Of seeing you safe home.
But now I go, through rain or snow—
Pursued and scarce alive,
Through all the dark, without a spark,
Because I'm twenty-five.

They used to call, and ask me all
About my health so frail;
And thought a ride would help my side,
And took my cheek less pale;
But now, alas! if I am ill,
None care that I revive;
And pale cheek in vain may speak,
Because I'm twenty-five.

Now if a ride improves my side,
I'm forced to take the stage;
That is deemed quite proper for
A woman of my age;—
And then no hand is offered me,
To help me out alive,
They think it won't hurt me to fall,
Because I'm twenty-five.

Oh dear!—isn't queer that every year
I'm slighted more and more;
For not a hand pretends to show
Upon their heads within our door.
Nor ride, nor card, nor soft address,
My spirits now revive;
And none might dare to be dead
As say—I'm twenty-five.

LADIES' DEPARTMENT.

Courting by Proxy.

A TALE OF NEW YORK.

BY THE AUTHOR OF "A NEW HOME."

Young Mr. Alonso Rush was dreadfully in love—as, indeed, that of us is not! Every body has a passion, though, fortunately, the objects are infinitely various. Mr. Alonso was in love with a girl for a year or two after he took leave of his home and made a long and watery trip to Europe; then he returned to his native land to marry, and he forthwith fell in love with his future wife, and vowed to allow himself no rest till he had found her. This may be termed "love in the abstract," which, as we see, is not without its perplexities.

Mr. Alonso was a darling boy, an orphan, and the heir of a good Knickerbocker fortune. His grandmother was his guardian, in a sense beyond the cold, and the girl he loved was the flower of the family. She was a girl of twenty, and he had so far won her heart that he had given up all his pretensions to her, and vowed to allow himself no rest till he had found her. This may be termed "love in the abstract," which, as we see, is not without its perplexities.

Young Mr. Alonso Rush was dreadfully in love; and what made his situation the more puzzling was that his grandmother, in her various charges, had entirely omitted to specify the lady to whom his devotions ought to be paid. She even urged him to choose for himself. What a responsibility!

"Only remember, Alonso," said the good lady, "that you will never be happy with a girl that does not like muffins, and that is as easy as to find a rich girl as a poor one."

"Yes," replied young Mr. Alonso, "with rather an absent air, "yes, and as to muffins—here he sinks into a reverie."

"Grandma!" exclaimed the darling, after some pause, "couldn't you ask Parthenia Blanks here to tea?"

"Certainly, my dear," said the good lady, and she rang the bell at once, preparatory to the making of several kinds of cake, and various other good things.

The invitation was duly sent, and as duly accepted by Miss Parthenia Blanks, who found it a nice diversion of the responsibility attached to a girl from a family of such wealth. "Do it," exclaimed Harry, laughing, "why, order a splendid one at N—s, and send a servant with it to-morrow, with your compliments."

"So will I—unless if I don't," said Mr. Alonso, "and I'll get one as big as a dinner-plate."

"Assurance of this resolve, he called up an old family servant, and, locking the door, gave him ample directions, and in the most solemn manner.

"And mind, Moses," said the young master, "get one of the very largest size, and give whatever they ask." Happily Alonso! Why not put on thy hat, and go forth to choose thy bouquet in person? Moses took the ten-dollar note, which Alonso handed him, and departed with directions to utmost speed and invisible discretion.

"Mr. Alonso paced the floor, with the air of a man who, having done his best, feels that he ought to succeed, till at length the returning steps of his messenger greeted his ear.

"Well, Moses! have you carried it? Did you get a handsome one? Did you see her? What did she say?"

Poor Moses showed the entire white of his eyes. "Why, mass," said he, "you ax me too many questions to oast. I got him, and I carried him to Miss Van Der Benshoven's house, but I see no young woman who has been a good old Moses pulled out of his pocket a handfull of money."

"Change!" said Mr. Alonso, with much misgiving, "change!—eighteen pence—what shlings—what are you talking about?—What kind of flowers were they?"

"—beautiful flowers, masses. There was pincers and laylocks, and pas-blaemches, and ebery ting."

We will only say that if hard words could break bones, poor old Moses would have had a whole one left in his body—but of what avail?

Next day came out invitations for a large party at Mrs. Van Der Benshoven's, and Harry Blanks, who had been spied out by one of the belligerent brothers of Miss Alonso, was recognized as one of the friends of F. Englehardt, while our poor friend, Alonso, was overlooked entirely, in spite of the laugh which his elegant bouquet had afforded the young ladies.

The morning after the party, Alonso announced his friend Harry, who had been much surprised at his absence.

"Why didn't you go?" he asked; "it was a splendid affair. I heard of your bouquet, but I explained, and you need not mind. Write a note yourself—that will set all right again."

"'I could you really?" said Mr. Alonso, earnestly.

"To be sure I would! Come, do it at once."

But Alonso recollects that he had not yet found much time to bestow on his education, so the writing of a note would be somewhat of an undertaking.

"Can't you do it for me?" said he; "you are used to these things."

The first house he came to—that is to say, the one to which his footsteps turned most naturally—was one belonging to a distant connexion of his grandmamma, a lady whose ancestor came over with Hendrick Hudson, or, as the family chroniclers insisted, a little before. Miss Alida before him, the only daughter of this lady—a fresh sprout from the time-honored tree which had been known to Alonso, but that he had always hidden himself when her mamma brought her to pay her annual visit to his grandmamma. She resided with her mother, one ancient sister, and two great rude brothers, at the borders of the city, in one of those tempting ruralities called cottages, built of brick, three stories high and two stories deep, with a veranda of cast iron, all very agricultural indeed, a certain lady said of a green door.

The idea of Miss Alida being once entertained, the shrubberies about the Van Der Benshoven cottage, consisting of three allethes, seemed to invite a private Romeo, and a Madeira vine, seemed to invite a Romeo, and a balcony scene. Not that he had a speech ready; for if he had he would have delivered it; but he had not, and he had not even the idea of trying them upon the heart of Miss Alida before he ventured upon words, as Hannibal, (was it not?) having rocks to soften, tried vinegar before pickaxes. Having often encountered bands of music in the street at night—or rather the evening, for his grandmamma never allowed him to be out after ten—he concluded the business of these protocols to be serene; and, as he was in no position to find out the most powerful companies, he engaged their leader to be in full force before Mrs. Van Der Benshoven's door on a certain evening, resolved himself to lie, perdu, in a convenient spot, ready to speak if the young lady should appear on the balcony, as he did not doubt she would. The Corypheus of the band was true to his promise, and he and his followers had played with all their might for half an hour or so, when, observing no demonstration from the house, and feeling rather chilly, they consulted their employer as to the property of the continuing.

"Oh! go on, go on," whispered Mr. Alonso; "she is not waked up yet! (The youth understood the true object of a serenade.) Play away till you hear something."

And, on the word, Washington's March awoke the whole neighborhood of Miss Alida.

The new stock certainly did not Miss Alida; but a voice crying "Seek him not" and the sign of life, threw new vigor into their instrumentation, a copious shower of bows, boot-jacks, billets of wood, and various other missiles, untuned the performers, who, in spite of the marital spirit breathed but just before, all looked up inaudibly.

Mr. Alonso scolded to follow, particularly as he called up his bed-chamber, with a soliloquy of three hours, but a voice crying "Seek him not" and the sign of life, threw new vigor into their instrumentation, a copious shower of bows, boot-jacks, billets of wood, and various other missiles, untuned the performers, who, in spite of the marital spirit breathed but just before, all looked up inaudibly.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"What is the matter, Mr. Rush?" exclaimed the lady.

"—am sick—" said Alonso, making a rush for the street door.

The lady was the elder sister of Miss Alida, diminutive, ill-formed, and with such a face as one sees in very severe nightmare.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"No, my child!" replied the weeping parent; "I hope not. But don't talk so, Emma. Forgive your poor brother, or you'll break his heart."

Emma tried to grasp something; but whatever it was, whether of love or hate, never reached a mortal ear. In a few moments she was no more.

HINDO FAIR. There is a fair among the Hindus, but this having been detected and the seclusion in which he lived, he was removed to the制造 of the 22d of August last, ten o'clock in the evening, and was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and the doors broken open. The furniture of this apartment consists of a plain bed, and some moveables of no great value, while the seats are constructed of superb polygony Bibles. To estimate the value of the property belonging to the Signor Garner is impossible, for the agents of the register of lands, have never been able to obtain an accurate account of the bounds of his estate; and to enter in the name of the law, would inflict a death blow on the neighbor.

His humor extends to eloping fabricated of whatever animal products I can find, and in summer, he wears nothing but linen. At his side hangs a sabre ready to strike down his imaginary enemies. No one is admitted to his presence, his children and the laborers employed to execute his plans, and those on the sole conditions of seeming to approve all his acts, and of addressing him with the name of her, with that which he still more affects, of her. The sabre is the only weapon he uses, and the sofa-cushions quiver.

—"a footstep—a lady—and in another instant Mr. Alonso had taken a small hand without venturing to look at the face of the owner. He had forgotten to prepare a speech, so he held the little hand and made a rush for the street door.

"—am sick—" said Alonso, making a rush for the street door.

The lady was the elder sister of Miss Alida, diminutive, ill-formed, and with such a face as one sees in very severe nightmare.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"No, my child!" replied the weeping parent; "I hope not. But don't talk so, Emma. Forgive your poor brother, or you'll break his heart."

Emma tried to grasp something; but whatever it was, whether of love or hate, never reached a mortal ear. In a few moments she was no more.

HINDO FAIR. There is a fair among the Hindus, but this having been detected and the seclusion in which he lived, he was removed to the制造 of the 22d of August last, ten o'clock in the evening, and was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and the doors broken open. The furniture of this apartment consists of a plain bed, and some moveables of no great value, while the seats are constructed of superb polygony Bibles. To estimate the value of the property belonging to the Signor Garner is impossible, for the agents of the register of lands, have never been able to obtain an accurate account of the bounds of his estate; and to enter in the name of the law, would inflict a death blow on the neighbor.

His humor extends to eloping fabricated of whatever animal products I can find, and in summer, he wears nothing but linen. At his side hangs a sabre ready to strike down his imaginary enemies. No one is admitted to his presence, his children and the laborers employed to execute his plans, and those on the sole conditions of seeming to approve all his acts, and of addressing him with the name of her, with that which he still more affects, of her. The sabre is the only weapon he uses, and the sofa-cushions quiver.

—"a footstep—a lady—and in another instant Mr. Alonso had taken a small hand without venturing to look at the face of the owner. He had forgotten to prepare a speech, so he held the little hand and made a rush for the street door.

"—am sick—" said Alonso, making a rush for the street door.

The lady was the elder sister of Miss Alida, diminutive, ill-formed, and with such a face as one sees in very severe nightmare.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"No, my child!" replied the weeping parent; "I hope not. But don't talk so, Emma. Forgive your poor brother, or you'll break his heart."

Emma tried to grasp something; but whatever it was, whether of love or hate, never reached a mortal ear. In a few moments she was no more.

HINDO FAIR. There is a fair among the Hindus, but this having been detected and the seclusion in which he lived, he was removed to the制造 of the 22d of August last, ten o'clock in the evening, and was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and the doors broken open. The furniture of this apartment consists of a plain bed, and some moveables of no great value, while the seats are constructed of superb polygony Bibles. To estimate the value of the property belonging to the Signor Garner is impossible, for the agents of the register of lands, have never been able to obtain an accurate account of the bounds of his estate; and to enter in the name of the law, would inflict a death blow on the neighbor.

His humor extends to eloping fabricated of whatever animal products I can find, and in summer, he wears nothing but linen. At his side hangs a sabre ready to strike down his imaginary enemies. No one is admitted to his presence, his children and the laborers employed to execute his plans, and those on the sole conditions of seeming to approve all his acts, and of addressing him with the name of her, with that which he still more affects, of her. The sabre is the only weapon he uses, and the sofa-cushions quiver.

—"a footstep—a lady—and in another instant Mr. Alonso had taken a small hand without venturing to look at the face of the owner. He had forgotten to prepare a speech, so he held the little hand and made a rush for the street door.

"—am sick—" said Alonso, making a rush for the street door.

The lady was the elder sister of Miss Alida, diminutive, ill-formed, and with such a face as one sees in very severe nightmare.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"No, my child!" replied the weeping parent; "I hope not. But don't talk so, Emma. Forgive your poor brother, or you'll break his heart."

Emma tried to grasp something; but whatever it was, whether of love or hate, never reached a mortal ear. In a few moments she was no more.

HINDO FAIR. There is a fair among the Hindus, but this having been detected and the seclusion in which he lived, he was removed to the制造 of the 22d of August last, ten o'clock in the evening, and was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and the doors broken open. The furniture of this apartment consists of a plain bed, and some moveables of no great value, while the seats are constructed of superb polygony Bibles. To estimate the value of the property belonging to the Signor Garner is impossible, for the agents of the register of lands, have never been able to obtain an accurate account of the bounds of his estate; and to enter in the name of the law, would inflict a death blow on the neighbor.

His humor extends to eloping fabricated of whatever animal products I can find, and in summer, he wears nothing but linen. At his side hangs a sabre ready to strike down his imaginary enemies. No one is admitted to his presence, his children and the laborers employed to execute his plans, and those on the sole conditions of seeming to approve all his acts, and of addressing him with the name of her, with that which he still more affects, of her. The sabre is the only weapon he uses, and the sofa-cushions quiver.

—"a footstep—a lady—and in another instant Mr. Alonso had taken a small hand without venturing to look at the face of the owner. He had forgotten to prepare a speech, so he held the little hand and made a rush for the street door.

"—am sick—" said Alonso, making a rush for the street door.

The lady was the elder sister of Miss Alida, diminutive, ill-formed, and with such a face as one sees in very severe nightmare.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"No, my child!" replied the weeping parent; "I hope not. But don't talk so, Emma. Forgive your poor brother, or you'll break his heart."

Emma tried to grasp something; but whatever it was, whether of love or hate, never reached a mortal ear. In a few moments she was no more.

HINDO FAIR. There is a fair among the Hindus, but this having been detected and the seclusion in which he lived, he was removed to the制造 of the 22d of August last, ten o'clock in the evening, and was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and the doors broken open. The furniture of this apartment consists of a plain bed, and some moveables of no great value, while the seats are constructed of superb polygony Bibles. To estimate the value of the property belonging to the Signor Garner is impossible, for the agents of the register of lands, have never been able to obtain an accurate account of the bounds of his estate; and to enter in the name of the law, would inflict a death blow on the neighbor.

His humor extends to eloping fabricated of whatever animal products I can find, and in summer, he wears nothing but linen. At his side hangs a sabre ready to strike down his imaginary enemies. No one is admitted to his presence, his children and the laborers employed to execute his plans, and those on the sole conditions of seeming to approve all his acts, and of addressing him with the name of her, with that which he still more affects, of her. The sabre is the only weapon he uses, and the sofa-cushions quiver.

—"a footstep—a lady—and in another instant Mr. Alonso had taken a small hand without venturing to look at the face of the owner. He had forgotten to prepare a speech, so he held the little hand and made a rush for the street door.

"—am sick—" said Alonso, making a rush for the street door.

The lady was the elder sister of Miss Alida, diminutive, ill-formed, and with such a face as one sees in very severe nightmare.

Alonso reached under his grandmamma's, and the first person to him was dashed through the house, and the door was closed, and he, at fault, he looked up inaudibly.

"No, my child!" replied the weeping parent; "I hope not. But don't talk so, Emma. Forgive your poor brother, or you'll break his heart."